The Rocky Mountain Mineral Law Foundation, the Institute for Energy Law, and the Energy & Mineral Law Foundation are co-sponsoring the 36th Annual Oil and Gas Law Short Course in Houston, Texas. This one-week intensive program, developed in 1983 by a group of practicing attorneys, landmen, and experienced law school professors, is continually reviewed and updated to provide registrants with the fundamentals of, and practical training in, important areas of oil and gas law in the United States, including leasing, contracting, conveyancing, regulation, and practice. This course focuses primarily on the principles of U.S. laws and state regulations. For in-depth treatment of oil and gas issues on U.S. federal lands or international oil and gas topics, see our Upcoming Courses.

Topics covered include exploration and production operations; ownership, capture, and correlative rights; conservation regulation; oil and gas leases – function and classification, defining what is granted, and duration of the grant; implied covenants; royalties; division orders; drilling contracts; pooling and unitization; local regulation; split estates; environmental regulations; common interests; joint operating agreements; farmout agreements; marketing; ethical issues; and taxation.

This course is essential for attorneys, landmen, paralegals, government employees, and others who are relatively inexperienced in the legal and/or land problems of the oil and gas industry. More experienced individuals often attend this course for a comprehensive review and update. The course provides 31.8 hours of continuing education credit, including 2.25 hours of ethics. Enrollment is limited, and paid registrations will be accepted on a first-come, first-served basis. The registration fee includes substantial course materials, coffee breaks, and a hosted reception. Please note that course materials cannot be purchased separately.

Experienced attendees will benefit from deeper insights into core topics, while resource professionals who are relatively new to the practice will benefit from the experience of our distinguished speakers. We hope you can join us in Houston to continue the tradition of valuable educational and networking opportunities provided by our Oil & Gas Law Short Course.
DAY 1: Monday, October 8, 2018

7:15 am – 8:30 am: Registration

8:30 am – 8:40 am: Introductions and Opening Remarks

8:40 am – 9:30 am: Exploration and Production Operations (Ehrman)
• Overview of reservoir mechanics and petroleum geology
• Petroleum exploration, production, completions, and development
• Unconventional (shale) production

9:30 am – 10:45 am: Ownership, Rule of Capture, and Correlative Rights (Ehrman)
• Classification of oil and gas mineral interests
• Rule of Capture and non-liability for legal production
• Correlative rights of owners of a common reservoir
• Trespass issues

10:45 am – 11:00 am: Hosted Refreshment Break

11:00 am – 12:15 pm: Common Interests Created in Oil & Gas (Griggs)
• Characteristics of oil and gas interests
• How interests are created; limits on creation
• Concurrent and successive interests
• Dormant mineral acts and receivership statutes

12:15 pm – 1:45 pm: Lunch – On Your Own

1:45 pm – 3:00 pm: The Oil & Gas Lease: Conditions vs. Covenants (Weaver)
• Nature of the lease interest
• The habendum clause: production in paying quantities
• Temporary cessation doctrine
• Delay rental option

3:00 pm – 3:15 pm: Hosted Refreshment Break

3:15 pm – 4:30 pm: Defining the Duration of the Lease (Weaver)
• Typical savings clauses
• Recent examples from newer shale states
• Repudiation and force majeure

4:30 pm – 5:30 pm: Implied Covenants (Hall)
• The rationale for recognizing implied covenants
• The common implied covenants
• Negating implied covenants with express lease terms
• Remedies available for successful claimants

DAY 2: Tuesday, October 9, 2018

8:00 am – 9:45 am: Royalties (Kulander)
• History and rationale
• Types of royalty
• Market value vs. proceeds valuation
• Implied covenant to market — reasonable diligence in terms of time and price

9:45 am – 10:00 am: Hosted Refreshment Break

10:00 am – 11:30 am: Division Orders and Check Stub Statutes (Kulander)
• Deductions from royalty
• Purpose and content of division orders
• Common features of check stub statutes

11:30 am – 1:00 pm: Lunch – On Your Own

1:00 pm – 2:45 pm: Voluntary Pooling & Unitization (Kramer)
• Definitions - pooling & unitization distinguished
• Voluntary pooling, pooling agreements, leasehold pooling clauses, Pugh clauses, allocation well agreements
• Unit agreements and unit operating agreements
• Key provisions and allocation of production in voluntary unitization

2:45 pm – 3:00 pm: Hosted Refreshment Break

3:00 pm – 4:45 pm: Conservation Regulation (Martin)
• Drilling, spacing, and prorationing units
• Compulsory pooling and unitization
• Preventing waste and protecting correlative rights

DAY 3: Wednesday, October 10, 2018

8:00 am – 9:15 am: Split Estates (Righetti)
• Surface vs. mineral estate
• Accommodation doctrine
• State statutes
9:15 am – 10:30 am: Local Regulation of Oil & Gas Operations (Kramer)
- Relationship between state and sub-state units: sources of power
- Home rule - some autonomy for local zoning and land use plans
- Express preemption
- Implied preemption by occupation of the field
- Implied preemption by conflict
- Legislative supremacy and recent state legislative developments

10:30 am – 10:45 am: Hosted Refreshment Break

10:45 am – 12:30 pm: Environmental Regulation of the Oil and Gas Industry (Ritchie)
- Summary of major federal environmental laws and regulations
- Application of environmental laws and regulations to oil and gas due diligence, drilling, and operations
- Current environmental developments and pending proposals

12:30 pm – 2:00 pm: Lunch – On Your Own

2:00 pm – 4:00 pm: Marketing Agreements (Matlock)
- Crude oil transportation, refining, measurement, quality, pricing, transportation regulation, and contracts
- Natural gas gathering, compression, processing, measurement, quality, pricing, transportation regulation, and contracts
- Managing price volatility through financial transactions

4:00 pm – 4:15 pm: Hosted Refreshment Break

4:15 pm – 5:30 pm: Farmout Agreements (Barber)
- Description of farmout agreements and their origins
- Typical situations where farmout agreements are used
- Tax rulings that encourage farmout agreements
- Standard provisions in farmout agreements
- Relationship of farmouts and JOAs

DAY 4: Thursday, October 11, 2018

8:00 am – 9:30 am: Joint Operating Agreements (Barber)
- Issues when there is exploration and development among mineral owners and lessees who do not have a JOA, including potential liabilities for joint operations
- Role of forced pooling statutes in joint operations
- Analysis of model form operating agreements for vertical and horizontal well operations
- Common areas of dispute and how the JOA addresses them

9:30 am – 9:45 am: Hosted Refreshment Break

9:45 am – 11:45 am: Mineral Deed Conveyances (Burney)
- Rules of deed interpretation v. reformation
- Types and role of title opinions
- Perennial issues for interpreting and drafting: Duhig rule, fractions, and “other minerals”

11:45 am – 1:15 pm: Lunch – On Your Own

1:15 pm – 3:00 pm: Drilling Contracts (Anderson)
- Types of services agreements and manner of payment
- Macondo contractual risk allocation
- Allocating risk of loss through contract and insurance

3:00 pm – 3:15 pm: Hosted Refreshment Break

3:15 pm – 5:30 pm: Ethical Issues in Oil & Gas Law Practice (Dzienkowski & Peroni)
- Typical ethical dilemmas encountered by oil and gas attorneys
- Examination of core values of confidentiality, loyalty, competent and diligent representation, and obligations to the legal system
- Practicing transactional law across state lines

DAY 5: Friday, October 12, 2018

8:00 am – 9:30 am: Fundamentals of Oil and Gas Taxation (Dzienkowski & Peroni)
- Basic federal income tax preferences/tax subsidies given to the oil and gas industry
- Federal income tax consequences of leasing, farmouts, exploration, drilling and development, and production
- Overview of the federal income tax consequences of disposing of oil and gas properties, including the recapture of tax benefits

9:30 am – 9:45 am: Hosted Refreshment Break

9:45 am – 11:30 am: Fundamentals of Oil and Gas Taxation (continued)

11:30 am Course Adjournment
Speaker Biographies

OWEN L. ANDERSON began teaching full time at the University of Texas School of Law in January 2016, serving as a Professor at the Kay Bailey Hutchison Center for Energy, Law & Business, where he has taught as a part-time secondie since 2008. He is the Eugene Kuntz Chair Emeritus in Law in Oil, Gas & Natural Resources and the George Lynn Cross Research Professor Emeritus at the University of Oklahoma. He continues to regularly teach at the University of Melbourne and the University of Sydney. Professor Anderson has lectured at numerous other universities and venues on six continents and throughout the United States. He has authored over 100 articles. He is a co-author of International Petroleum Transactions, Hemingway Oil and Gas Law and Taxation, Cases and Materials on Oil & Gas Law, and A Student's Guide to Estates in Land and Future Interests. He a co-author of the supplements to Kuntz on Oil and Gas Law, and editor in chief of the Texas Title Standards. He serves on the Academic Advisory Board of the Institute for Energy Law, Faculty Adviser to the Texas Journal of Oil, Gas and Energy Law, the Editorial Advisory Board of the Oil and Gas, Natural Resources, and Energy Law Journal (ONE J), and on the Executive Committee of the Journal of World Energy Law and Business. He is a member of the Texas, Oklahoma, and North Dakota bars; a member of the Association of International Petroleum Negotiators, where he serves as form and style editor of AIPN Model Contracts; a life member of the National Conference of Commissioners on Uniform State Laws; a member of the American Law Institute; an honorary trustee of the Rocky Mountain Mineral Law Foundation; and a trustee of the Energy and Mineral Law Foundation. He is an arbitrator and consultant on oil and gas law and policy.

PHIL BARBER practices law in Denver, Colorado. He graduated from the Pueblo public schools, from Dartmouth College in 1975 (magna cum laude, with high distinction), and received his J.D. from the University of Colorado School of Law in 1979. His practice has focused on oil and gas law and natural resources and commercial litigation. Mr. Barber represents a variety of clients in the oil and gas industry, including exploration and production companies, parties who own surface, mineral or overriding royalty interests, and municipalities along Colorado's Front Range. He is the editor/author of "Oil & Gas Practice in Colorado" for the Colorado Methods of Practice, and is a contributing author to the Federal Law of Oil and Gas Leasing. He speaks annually at the Short Course on Oil and Gas Law. Mr. Barber also volunteers with a number of non-profit groups, and provides pro bono representation to people seeking asylum in this country.

LAURA H. BURNEY is on the faculty at St. Mary's University School of Law in San Antonio, Texas. She has written extensively on oil and gas law issues, and is a frequent speaker at conferences and courses for attorneys and other professionals in the industry. She has served as an advocate, arbitrator and as a mediator in oil and gas disputes, and as a consulting or testifying expert in cases in several states. She received her B.A. from Trinity University and graduated with distinction from St. Mary's School of Law in 1984. Ms. Burney served as a trustee for the Rocky Mountain Mineral Law Foundation (RMMLF) and teaches in RMMLF's Annual Oil and Gas Law Short Course. She also served on the Oil, Gas & Energy Resources Law Council of the State Bar of Texas for nine years, completing her tenure as chair in 2005. Until 2004, she was the Albert and Helen Herrmann Professor of Natural Resources Law at St. Mary's University School of Law, where she began teaching in 1985. After working in private practice for six years, she returned to the faculty of St. Mary's in 2010, teaching property law courses, including oil and gas law, and serving as faculty adviser to the law students' Oil, Gas and Energy Resources Law Association. In addition to teaching, Ms. Burney serves as vice-chair on the State Bar of Texas' Pattern Jury Charge Committee for oil and gas disputes and continues to practice and work as a mediator and arbitrator.

JOHN S. DZIENKOWSKI is the John F. Sutton, Jr. Chair in Lawyering and the Legal Process and a Professor of Law at the University of Texas School of Law in Austin, Texas. John is a summa cum laude graduate of the University of Miami with a Bachelor of Business Administration and a high honors graduate of the University of Texas School of Law. While in law school, John served as the Editor-in-Chief of the Texas Law Review and received the honors of a member in the UT Chancellors and the Order of the Coif. He served as a judicial law clerk for Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals Judge Joseph Sneed (1983-84) and for District of Massachusetts Judge Robert Keeton (1984-85). John began his teaching career at Tulane Law School in New Orleans and joined the Texas faculty in 1988. He has been a visiting professor at a number of law schools around the country. John teaches and writes in the areas of professional responsibility of lawyers, real property, international energy transactions, and oil and gas taxation. He also was the recipient of the Texas Exes Faculty Teaching Award at the Law School in 2005. John is a four-term member of the drafting committee of the Multistate Professional Responsibility Examination. John has authored and edited numerous books and articles on a variety of legal ethics and natural resources topics. John is the long-time co-chair (with Bob Peroni) of the bi-annual Parker Fielder Oil and Gas Taxation Conference, co-sponsored by the University of Texas School of Law and the Internal Revenue Service.

MONIKA U. EHHRMAN is Associate Professor of Law and Faculty Director of the Oil & Gas, Natural Resources, and Energy Center (ONE C) at the University of Oklahoma College of Law. Her scholarly interests are in the area of oil & gas real property issues, the intersection between law and oil & gas technology, and energy policy. Her courses, past and present, include Oil & Gas Law, Energy Law, Water Law, International Petroleum Transactions, Property, Oil & Gas Contracts, Oil & Gas Environmental Law, and Energy Negotiations. She currently teaches in the J.D. and graduate programs at OU Law and in the Executive Energy Management Program at the OU Price College of Business. Prior to teaching, she served as general counsel of a privately-held oil & gas company in Dallas; senior counsel with Pioneer Natural Resources; and associate attorney at Locke Lord LLP. Her practice experience includes oil and gas litigation and energy transactional work. Before law school, Professor Ehrman worked as a petroleum engineer in the upstream, midstream, and pipeline sectors of the energy industry. In addition to her experience with the technical aspects of the industry, she also worked as an analyst in the areas of commodity risk management and energy trading. She is a Trustee for the Rocky Mountain Mineral Law Foundation and Energy & Mineral Law Foundation and a delegate on the Educational Advisory Board for the Association of International Petroleum Negotiators. In addition to serving on various oil and gas law committees, she also served as an Editor of the Oil and Gas Reporter for the Institute for Energy Law. She is the faculty advisor to the Oil and Gas, Natural Resources, and Energy Journal (ONE J), published by The University of Oklahoma College of Law. Professor Ehrman received her B.Sc. in Petroleum Engineering from the University of Alberta; J.D. from SMU Dedman School of Law; and Master's in Law from Yale Law School. During law school, she was Research Assistant to Professor John Lowe at SMU and to the Yale Center for Environmental Law & Policy.

BURKE GRIGGS joined the Washburn law faculty in 2016. He teaches property law to first-year students and natural resources law to upper-division students. His research agenda follows three interwoven lines of inquiry: the history of property rights regimes in natural resources; the geophysical aspects of natural resources and how they respond to different forms of ownership, exploitation, and regulation; and the diverse political cultures of the owners and communities which compete for and contest the use of these resources. His approach is the product of his training as an historian and his experience as a lawyer. Prior to joining the faculty, Professor Griggs practiced water law in both the public and private sectors. As an assistant attorney general, he represented the State of Kansas in federal and interstate water matters, most prominently Kansas v. Nebraska, an original action to enforce the Republican River Compact against the State of Nebraska. Professor Griggs also served as lead counsel for Kansas in the negotiations over the Kickapoo Tribe reserved water rights settlement, the first of its kind in Kansas. Outside of the litigation arena, Professor Griggs has advised Kansas' natural resources agencies on matters of natural resources law and policy. He worked in private practice at Stevens & Brand, LLP, in Lawrence, Kansas, from 2006 to 2008. During the 2013-2014 academic year, Professor Griggs served as a Consulting Professor at the Bill Lane Center for the American West at Stanford University. He was subsequently named a Nonresident Fellow of the Woods Institute for the Environment, also at Stanford, and an affiliated scholar at the Lane Center, where he contributes to their joint Water in the West Project. Professor Griggs participates in Washburn Law's Oil and Gas Law Center, its Agricultural Law Program, and its Rural Law Practice Initiative. He is admitted to practice in Kansas, the Supreme Court of the United States, the United States Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit, and the United States Court of Appeals for the Eleventh Circuit.

KEITH B. HALL is the Director of the Mineral Law Institute and the Campanile Charities Professor of Energy Law at Louisiana State University Law School in Baton Rouge, Louisiana where he teaches Mineral Rights, Advanced Mineral Law, International Petroleum Transactions, and an Energy Law Seminar that focuses on environmental issues relating to the oil and gas industry. Before joining LSU Law School, he was member of Stone Pigman Walther Wittmann in New Orleans, where he practiced law for 16 years, focusing his practice on oil and gas law, environmental law, and toxic tort litigation. He is a member of the Board of Editors for the Oil & Gas Reporter, the Board of Trustees for the Rocky Mountain Mineral Law Foundation, the Advisory Council for the Institute for Energy Law, and the Board of Trustees for the Energy & Mineral Law Foundation. He previously served as Chair of the Louisiana State Bar Association's Environmental Law Section. Before attending law school, he earned a B.S. in Chemical Engineering from Louisiana State University and worked for eight years as a chemical engineer.

BRUCE M. KRAMER received his B.A. in International Relations from UCLA in 1968, his J.D. from the UCLA School of Law in 1972 and an LL.M. in Environmental and Natural Resources Law from the University of Illinois College of Law in 1975. From 1974 through his retirement at the end of 2006 he taught at the Texas Tech University School of Law. He is now the Maddox Professor of Law Emeritus. From 2007 through the present he is of counsel to the Texas-based law firm of McGinnis, Lochridge & Kilgore. He has taught at Colorado University School of Law since 2008 and is currently a Thomson Visiting Professor of Law. He is the co-author of several treatises including The Law of Pooling and Unitization, Williams & Meyers Oil and Gas Law (since 1996), Cases and Materials on Oil and Gas Law and International Petroleum Transactions. He is also the author of numerous law review articles in the field of oil and gas law. His works have been cited by numerous state and federal courts over the past 25 years. He is a honorary trustee of the Rocky Mountain Mineral Law Foundation, a member of the Executive Committee of the Institute for Energy Law of the Center for American and International Law and a trustee to the Energy and Mineral Law Foundation.

CHRISTOPHER KULANDER is a professor of law at South Texas College of Law Houston and Director of the school's Harry L. Reed Oil and Gas Law Institute. At South Texas, he teaches courses covering oil & gas, energy, and property law. He received his J.D. from the University of Oklahoma, where he was managing editor for the Oklahoma Bar Mineral Law Newsletter, note editor and assisting managing editor for the American Indian Law Review, and research assistant for Owen L. Anderson, Eugene Kuntz Chair of Oil and Gas Law. Before teaching, Professor Kulander practiced full-time for four years in the Houston office of Haynes and Boone LLP within the Energy Practice Group, focusing on energy lending, finance, and bankruptcy. Prior to that, he practiced for two years with Cotton & Bledsoe in Midland, Texas, focusing on oil and gas title and leasing. Before law school, he received his B.S. and M.S. in geology from Wright State in Dayton, Ohio, and his Ph.D. in geophysics (petroleum seismology) from Texas A&M, after which he worked as a geophysicist for the U.S. Geological Survey. He has written and published in the fields of oil and gas law, land use control, American Indian law as well as in geology and petroleum seismology.

PATRICK H. MARTIN is Campanile Professor of Mineral Law, Emeritus, at Louisiana State University Law Center. Professor Martin taught at the LSU Law Center from 1977 to 2011, including courses in Jurisprudence, Contracts, and Mineral Law. From 1982 to 1984, he served as the Commissioner of Conservation for the State of Louisiana. Professor Martin holds the B.A., M.A., and Ph.D. degrees from Louisiana State University and the J. D. degree from the Duke University Law School. His
JACQUELINE L. WEAVER is Professor Emerita at the University of Houston Law Center, where she held the A.A. White Professor of Law chair until her retirement in 2017. Her teaching and research interests cover oil and gas law, energy law and policy, international petroleum, and environmental and natural resources law. She is the co-author of Smith & Weaver, Texas Law of Oil and Gas, a three-volume treatise; Energy, Economics and the Environment (a casebook on U.S. energy, including FERC regulation of pipelines); and several books on international petroleum transactions. She has lectured on topics in international oil and gas in Africa (Uganda, Namibia, and Luanda), Kazakhstan (as a Fulbright scholar), Lisbon, and Bangkok. She has written articles on offshore safety after the Macondo disaster in the Gulf of Mexico, energy markets, sustainable development in the international petroleum industry, comparative unitization laws, energy policy, and traditional oil and gas law topics. Professor Weaver holds a B.A. in Economics from Harvard University and a J.D. degree from the University of Houston.

JUDITH M. MATLOCK is a partner in the Energy Group of the Denver law firm of Davis, Graham & Stubbs LLP. She has practiced in the area of natural resources law for over thirty years. Her practice includes representing clients in connection with regulation, contracting, and litigation as well as with royalties and taxes on production. She is involved in all aspects of the gathering, transportation, processing, fractionation and marketing of natural gas, liquids and crude oil including advising clients on the federal and state jurisdictional status of transportation facilities. She received her undergraduate degree (B.A. 1979) from the University of Colorado at Denver and her law degree (J.D. 1982) from the University of Colorado at Boulder. She is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, Order of the Coif, and the Denver, Colorado, and American Bar Associations. She has been named in The Best Lawyers in America® (oil and gas) since 1995. She is an active participant in the Rocky Mountain Mineral Law Foundation. She has served on the Executive Committee, as a trustee, and co-chair of the Special Institutes Committee. She has also been the program chair for several RMMLF special institutes and short courses and was the program chair for the 2010 Annual Institute. She is a frequent lecturer and writer on numerous oil and gas marketing-related topics.

ROBERT J. PERONI is the Fondren Foundation Centennial Chair for Faculty Excellence and a Professor of Law at the University of Texas School of Law in Austin, Texas. His research and teaching interests are in the areas of federal taxation (including natural resource taxation and international taxation), law and economics, and professional responsibility and legal ethics. He is a frequent speaker at academic conferences and continuing legal education programs throughout the country. Bob is the recipient of awards for outstanding law school teaching at Tulane, George Washington University, and the University of Texas. He has written extensively, having authored or co-authored numerous articles and books, including, with Anderson, Dzienkowski, Lowe, Pierce, and Smith, the most recent edition of Hemingway's treatise on Oil and Gas Law and Taxation (published by the West Group in 2017). He earned a BSC from DePaul University; a JD from Northwestern University; and an LLM (in Taxation) from New York University. He has had numerous appointments at law schools throughout the country, and was a Professor-in-Residence, Internal Revenue Service, Office of Chief Counsel, Washington, D.C., 1985-86. He is also the co-chair (with John Dzienkowski) of the bi-annual Parker Fielder Oil and Gas Taxation Conference, co-sponsored by the University of Texas School of Law and the Internal Revenue Service and is the long-time academic co-chair of the Annual Institute on Current Issues in International Taxation. Bob is a Fellow of the American College of Tax Counsel.

TARA RIGHETTI is an associate professor at the University of Wyoming College of Law and the UW School of Energy Resources. She is also the director of the University of Wyoming's AAPL accredited academic program in Professional Land Management. She teaches courses including oil and gas law, energy deals, and advanced oil and gas law and coaches the law school's energy negotiation competition team. Professor Righetti has written extensively on oil and gas law issues, and is a frequent speaker at conferences and courses for attorneys and other professionals in the industry. Prior to joining the University of Wyoming, Professor Righetti worked as counsel and in executive management at a privately held exploration and production company. In addition to teaching, she has served as a consulting or testifying expert in cases and to startup companies in the energy industry. She is admitted to practice in California and Texas.

ALEX RITCHIE is the Executive Director of the Rocky Mountain Mineral Foundation. He comes to the Foundation from the University of New Mexico School of Law, where he held the Leon Karelitz Chair in Oil and Gas Law and taught oil and gas law, advanced oil and gas law, property law, natural resources law, energy law, and business associations. Before joining the UNM law faculty, Alex was Senior Corporate Counsel for Suncor Energy (U.S.A.) Inc., based in Denver. Alex joined Suncor in 2009 after ten years in the Energy and Natural Resources and Corporate Transactions practice groups at Bryan Cave LLP (formerly Holme Roberts & Owen LLP). In addition to numerous Foundation papers and law review articles, Alex is a co-author of the Tenth Edition of Cases and Materials: The Law of Oil and Gas (Foundation Press 2016) (with Martin, Kramer and Hall). Over the course of his career, Alex has represented clients in oil and gas, mining, corporate, securities, commercial, mergers and acquisitions, and environmental matters.

JUDITH M. MATLOCK is a partner in the Energy Group of the Denver law firm of Davis, Graham & Stubbs LLP. She has practiced in the area of natural resources law for over thirty years. Her practice includes representing clients in connection with regulation, contracting, and litigation as well as with royalties and taxes on production. She is involved in all aspects of the gathering, transportation, processing, fractionation and marketing of natural gas, liquids and crude oil including advising clients on the federal and state jurisdictional status of transportation facilities. She received her undergraduate degree (B.A. 1979) from the University of Colorado at Denver and her law degree (J.D. 1982) from the University of Colorado at Boulder. She is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, Order of the Coif, and the Denver, Colorado, and American Bar Associations. She has been named in The Best Lawyers in America® (oil and gas) since 1995. She is an active participant in the Rocky Mountain Mineral Law Foundation. She has served on the Executive Committee, as a trustee, and co-chair of the Special Institutes Committee. She has also been the program chair for several RMMLF special institutes and short courses and was the program chair for the 2010 Annual Institute. She is a frequent lecturer and writer on numerous oil and gas marketing-related topics.

ROBERT J. PERONI is the Fondren Foundation Centennial Chair for Faculty Excellence and a Professor of Law at the University of Texas School of Law in Austin, Texas. His research and teaching interests are in the areas of federal taxation (including natural resource taxation and international taxation), law and economics, and professional responsibility and legal ethics. He is a frequent speaker at academic conferences and continuing legal education programs throughout the country. Bob is the recipient of awards for outstanding law school teaching at Tulane, George Washington University, and the University of Texas. He has written extensively, having authored or co-authored numerous articles and books, including, with Anderson, Dzienkowski, Lowe, Pierce, and Smith, the most recent edition of Hemingway's treatise on Oil and Gas Law and Taxation (published by the West Group in 2017). He earned a BSC from DePaul University; a JD from Northwestern University; and an LLM (in Taxation) from New York University. He has had numerous appointments at law schools throughout the country, and was a Professor-in-Residence, Internal Revenue Service, Office of Chief Counsel, Washington, D.C., 1985-86. He is also the co-chair (with John Dzienkowski) of the bi-annual Parker Fielder Oil and Gas Taxation Conference, co-sponsored by the University of Texas School of Law and the Internal Revenue Service and is the long-time academic co-chair of the Annual Institute on Current Issues in International Taxation. Bob is a Fellow of the American College of Tax Counsel.

TARA RIGHETTI is an associate professor at the University of Wyoming College of Law and the UW School of Energy Resources. She is also the director of the University of Wyoming's AAPL accredited academic program in Professional Land Management. She teaches courses including oil and gas law, energy deals, and advanced oil and gas law and coaches the law school's energy negotiation competition team. Professor Righetti has written extensively on oil and gas law issues, and is a frequent speaker at conferences and courses for attorneys and other professionals in the industry. Prior to joining the University of Wyoming, Professor Righetti worked as counsel and in executive management at a privately held exploration and production company. In addition to teaching, she has served as a consulting or testifying expert in cases and to startup companies in the energy industry. She is admitted to practice in California and Texas.

ALEX RITCHIE is the Executive Director of the Rocky Mountain Mineral Foundation. He comes to the Foundation from the University of New Mexico School of Law, where he held the Leon Karelitz Chair in Oil and Gas Law and taught oil and gas law, advanced oil and gas law, property law, natural resources law, energy law, and business associations. Before joining the UNM law faculty, Alex was Senior Corporate Counsel for Suncor Energy (U.S.A.) Inc., based in Denver. Alex joined Suncor in 2009 after ten years in the Energy and Natural Resources and Corporate Transactions practice groups at Bryan Cave LLP (formerly Holme Roberts & Owen LLP). In addition to numerous Foundation papers and law review articles, Alex is a co-author of the Tenth Edition of Cases and Materials: The Law of Oil and Gas (Foundation Press 2016) (with Martin, Kramer and Hall). Over the course of his career, Alex has represented clients in oil and gas, mining, corporate, securities, commercial, mergers and acquisitions, and environmental matters.

JACQUELINE L. WEAVER is Professor Emerita at the University of Houston Law Center, where she held the A.A. White Professor of Law chair until her retirement in 2017. Her teaching and research interests cover oil and gas law, energy law and policy, international petroleum, and environmental and natural resources law. She is the co-author of Smith & Weaver, Texas Law of Oil and Gas, a three-volume treatise; Energy, Economics and the Environment (a casebook on U.S. energy, including FERC regulation of pipelines); and several books on international petroleum transactions. She has lectured on topics in international oil and gas in Africa (Uganda, Namibia, and Luanda), Kazakhstan (as a Fulbright scholar), Lisbon, and Bangkok. She has written articles on offshore safety after the Macondo disaster in the Gulf of Mexico, energy markets, sustainable development in the international petroleum industry, comparative unitization laws, energy policy, and traditional oil and gas law topics. Professor Weaver holds a B.A. in Economics from Harvard University and a J.D. degree from the University of Houston.
The Rocky Mountain Mineral Law Foundation (RMMLF), established in 1955 as a nonprofit corporation, is an international educational organization dedicated to the study of the legal systems and issues affecting mineral, public lands, and water resources. The Foundation is a cooperative project of law schools, bar associations, and industry associations, and sponsors numerous programs on mining, oil and gas, and natural resource law issues. RMMLF, 9191 Sheridan Blvd. Ste. 203, Westminster, CO 80031 tel 303-321-8100, fax 303-321-7657, info@rmmlf.org, www.rmmlf.org.

The Institute for Energy Law (IEL) provides advanced education for lawyers and other professionals in the energy industry through educational programs, scholarly publications, and membership activities. It counts among its membership many of the world's leading energy companies and attorneys. The IEL is a division of The Center for American and International Law (CAIL), a nonprofit organization which since 1947 has served lawyers and law enforcement officials from over 131 countries. IEL, 5201 Democracy Drive, Plano, TX 75024, tel 972-244-3400, fax 972-244-3401, iel@cailaw.org, www.cailaw.org/iel.

The Energy & Mineral Law Foundation (EMLF) is a nonprofit educational organization providing information on legal issues related to the energy and mineral industry through workshops, specialty programs, publications, and electronic information. EMLF, 340 S. Broadway Ste. 101, Lexington, KY 40508, tel 859-231-0271, fax 859-226-0485, carolyn@emlf.org, www.emlf.org.

Mail, fax, or email registration form and payment to:

Rocky Mountain Mineral Law Foundation
9191 Sheridan Blvd., Ste. 203
Westminster, CO 80031 USA
Tel: (303) 321-8100
Fax: (303) 321-7657
info@rmmlf.org

Questions: info@rmmlf.org

By entering your information and registering for this course, you consent and agree to receive communications from us as to our programs, products, and services and certain programs of our nonprofit partners, provided that you may opt out of receiving email notices at any time. You also consent to our providing your contact information to other course registrants on the course registration list, which may be used by course registrants to invite you to events held in connection with the course. If you are a member, you consent to our providing your contact information to other members. For a copy of our privacy policy, go to https://tinyurl.com/rmmlf-privacy.

Oil & Gas Law Short Course

Total:

3. Materials Format

Select your course materials format: [ ] DOWNLOAD ONLY ($0) [ ] HARD COPY ($65)

(Receive manual at conference)

4. Payment Information

Prepayment Required – Please pay in U.S. Dollars

[ ] Check drawn on a U.S. bank in U.S. Dollars (Payable to RMMLF)
[ ] VISA [ ] MasterCard [ ] American Express

Credit Card # ___________________________ Exp. Date _____________
Name on Card ________________________
Signature _____________________________

[ ] Electronic Funds Transfer: Contact the Foundation at info@rmmlf.org

The Rocky Mountain Mineral Law Foundation is a non-profit, tax-exempt corporation (Tax ID #84-6037688).
General Information

Room Reservations: The Westin Oaks Houston at the Galleria, 5011 Westheimer, Houston, TX 77056, has blocked rooms for this Short Course until September 14 at the discounted rate of $195 per night. Ask for the special rate for Oil & Gas registrants. Contact info@rmmlf.org for government rate rooms. For reservations, contact the Westin at:

- Online: http://tinyurl.com/rockym129
- Toll Free: 888-627-8514

Trouble making room reservations? Contact us at info@rmmlf.org

Car Rental: Hertz is offering special discounts by referencing Meeting CV#03NJ0013 and Rocky Mountain Mineral Law Foundation. Make reservations at http://tinyurl.com/hertz2018 or call 800-654-2240 (U.S.); 800-263-0600 (Canada); or 405-749-4434 (International).

Registration Fees: Include course materials, refreshments, and hosted functions as listed in this brochure. These fees do not include hotel costs or transportation. Registrations will be accepted only when accompanied by a check, money order, government purchase order or training form, credit card information, or wiring information. No registrations can be processed without payment.

Course Materials: The classroom presentations will be supplemented by extensive electronic materials that will be available two weeks before the start of the program.

Registration Cancellations: Refunds, less a $100 administrative fee, will be given for cancellations received by 3:00pm on Tuesday, September 18, 2018. No refunds will be given thereafter, although substitution of attendees may be made by contacting the Foundation. Cancellations must be made in writing or email to info@rmmlf.org. Registrants not entitled to a refund will receive a link to the course materials.

CLE Credit: This course consists of approximately 31.8 hours of continuing education, including 2.25 hours of ethics. You must let us know, at least 45 days in advance of the conference, the states or organizations for which you will need credit (see registration form). Credit hours for states will vary and are subject to each state's approval and credit rounding rules. Foundation conferences are typically accredited by all mandatory CLE states and Canadian provinces, the AAPL, NADOA and NALTA, and other professional organizations. Attorneys from certain states may be required to pay an additional fee. The Foundation is a State Bar of California MCLE-approved provider.

Recording: Audio and video recording, streaming, or other types of live or stored dissemination are not permitted without express authorization from the Foundation.

Special Needs: If you have special needs addressed by the ADA, please notify us at least two weeks before the program.